Word & Wonder · build your own learning app with Claude

A page that teaches you something new every day: a language in the morning and general knowledge in the evening. Claude builds it, fills it daily, and pings you when it's ready.

How to use it (2 minutes)

1. Replace everything highlighted in yellow with what YOU want. Learning Spanish instead of Danish? Want cooking instead of history? Just change the word.
2. Copy the box below and paste it into Claude (the app or claude.ai).
3. Answer Claude's questions and approve the scheduled tasks. Your first lesson arrives the next morning.

Build my learning app
Build me a daily learning app called [App name] as a Claude artifact page, with a small database so new lessons can be added every day.

About me
I'm [first name]. I speak [your languages]. I live in [city or time zone]. I work in, or want to work in, [your field].

Track 1 · a language every morning
I want to learn [language] at level [beginner / A2 / B1]. Every morning, add 5 new words on one real-life theme, with pronunciation, an example sentence, a memory trick and a grammar tip that compares it with [your native language]. Add a short, funny dialogue that uses all 5 words, and a 3-question quiz. Never repeat a word.

Track 2 (optional): [a second language or skill, or delete this line]

Track 3 · Brain Food every evening
One short general-knowledge lesson I can play like a story: 5 to 7 slides read aloud. Then a chat or debate, a short poem that teaches 3 new [English] words, a quiz and real sources. Topics by day: Mon [business], Tue [marketing], Wed [history], Thu [world news explained], Fri [arts & culture], Sat [science], Sun [the week in news]. Check facts with reliable sources and stay neutral.

The page
Phone-friendly, one tab per track, flip cards, read-aloud buttons, and a deck that saves every word for review.

The schedule
Set up scheduled tasks that fill the page at [8:00] and [19:00], and send me a short notification with the link each time. Optional: a pop quiz at [13:00].

Ask me about anything that's missing before you start.

Tip: keep it simple at first. You can always say "add a second language" or "change Friday's topic to football" later.
